Flavoured Water Additives

While the majority of dogs and cats are happy to drink either of the original “dog” or “cat” water additive formulations, some pets are rather particular. HealthyMouth believes every pet should have the benefit of safe, proven daily home plaque control, no matter how particular their tastes may be. So at some considerable expense, Karen Albert (founder, CEO) has sourced a variety of real, natural flavouring agents to add to the original water additive recipes. All of the new products have the VOHC seal of acceptance for helping to control plaque. There is a small premium to pay for the flavoured products, but the 100% palatability guarantee applies so there is still no risk to you or your client. The flavours are now in stock in the 237 ml size at VPCL (codes shown on image below).

These same flavour options are also found in the new line up of brushing gels.
